

COUNTDOWN TO CO₂PENHAGEN

Flood London's streets and march for climate justice Join The Wave in London on 5 December as we make the final call for climate justice ahead of the UN's Copenhagen summit.

The Wave promises to be the UK's biggest ever demonstration in support of climate action. It is organised by our friends at the Stop Climate Chaos Coalition.

Prior to the march Christian Aid will also be co-hosting an ecumenical service featuring the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop of Westminster, Vincent Nichols.

It is absolutely crucial that Copenhagen delivers a deal that is fair and just, that keeps global warming below 2°C – and that protects the world's poorest and most vulnerable people.

Dress in blue and join Christian Aid as The Wave floods the streets, spelling out our message ahead of these vital talks.

Where and when

11am–12 noon Ecumenical service. Join the Archbishop of Canterbury at a service at Methodist Central Hall in Westminster

Noon–1pm Assemble at Grosvenor Square

1–3pm March to the Houses of Parliament

3pm The Wave will encircle the Houses of Parliament. Please wear blue, and if you can, bring a piece of blue material (eg a scarf or banner) to become part of the Wave.

Our campaign demands

We've fewer than 100 months to reverse growth in carbon emissions. Copenhagen is our chance to start putting it right.

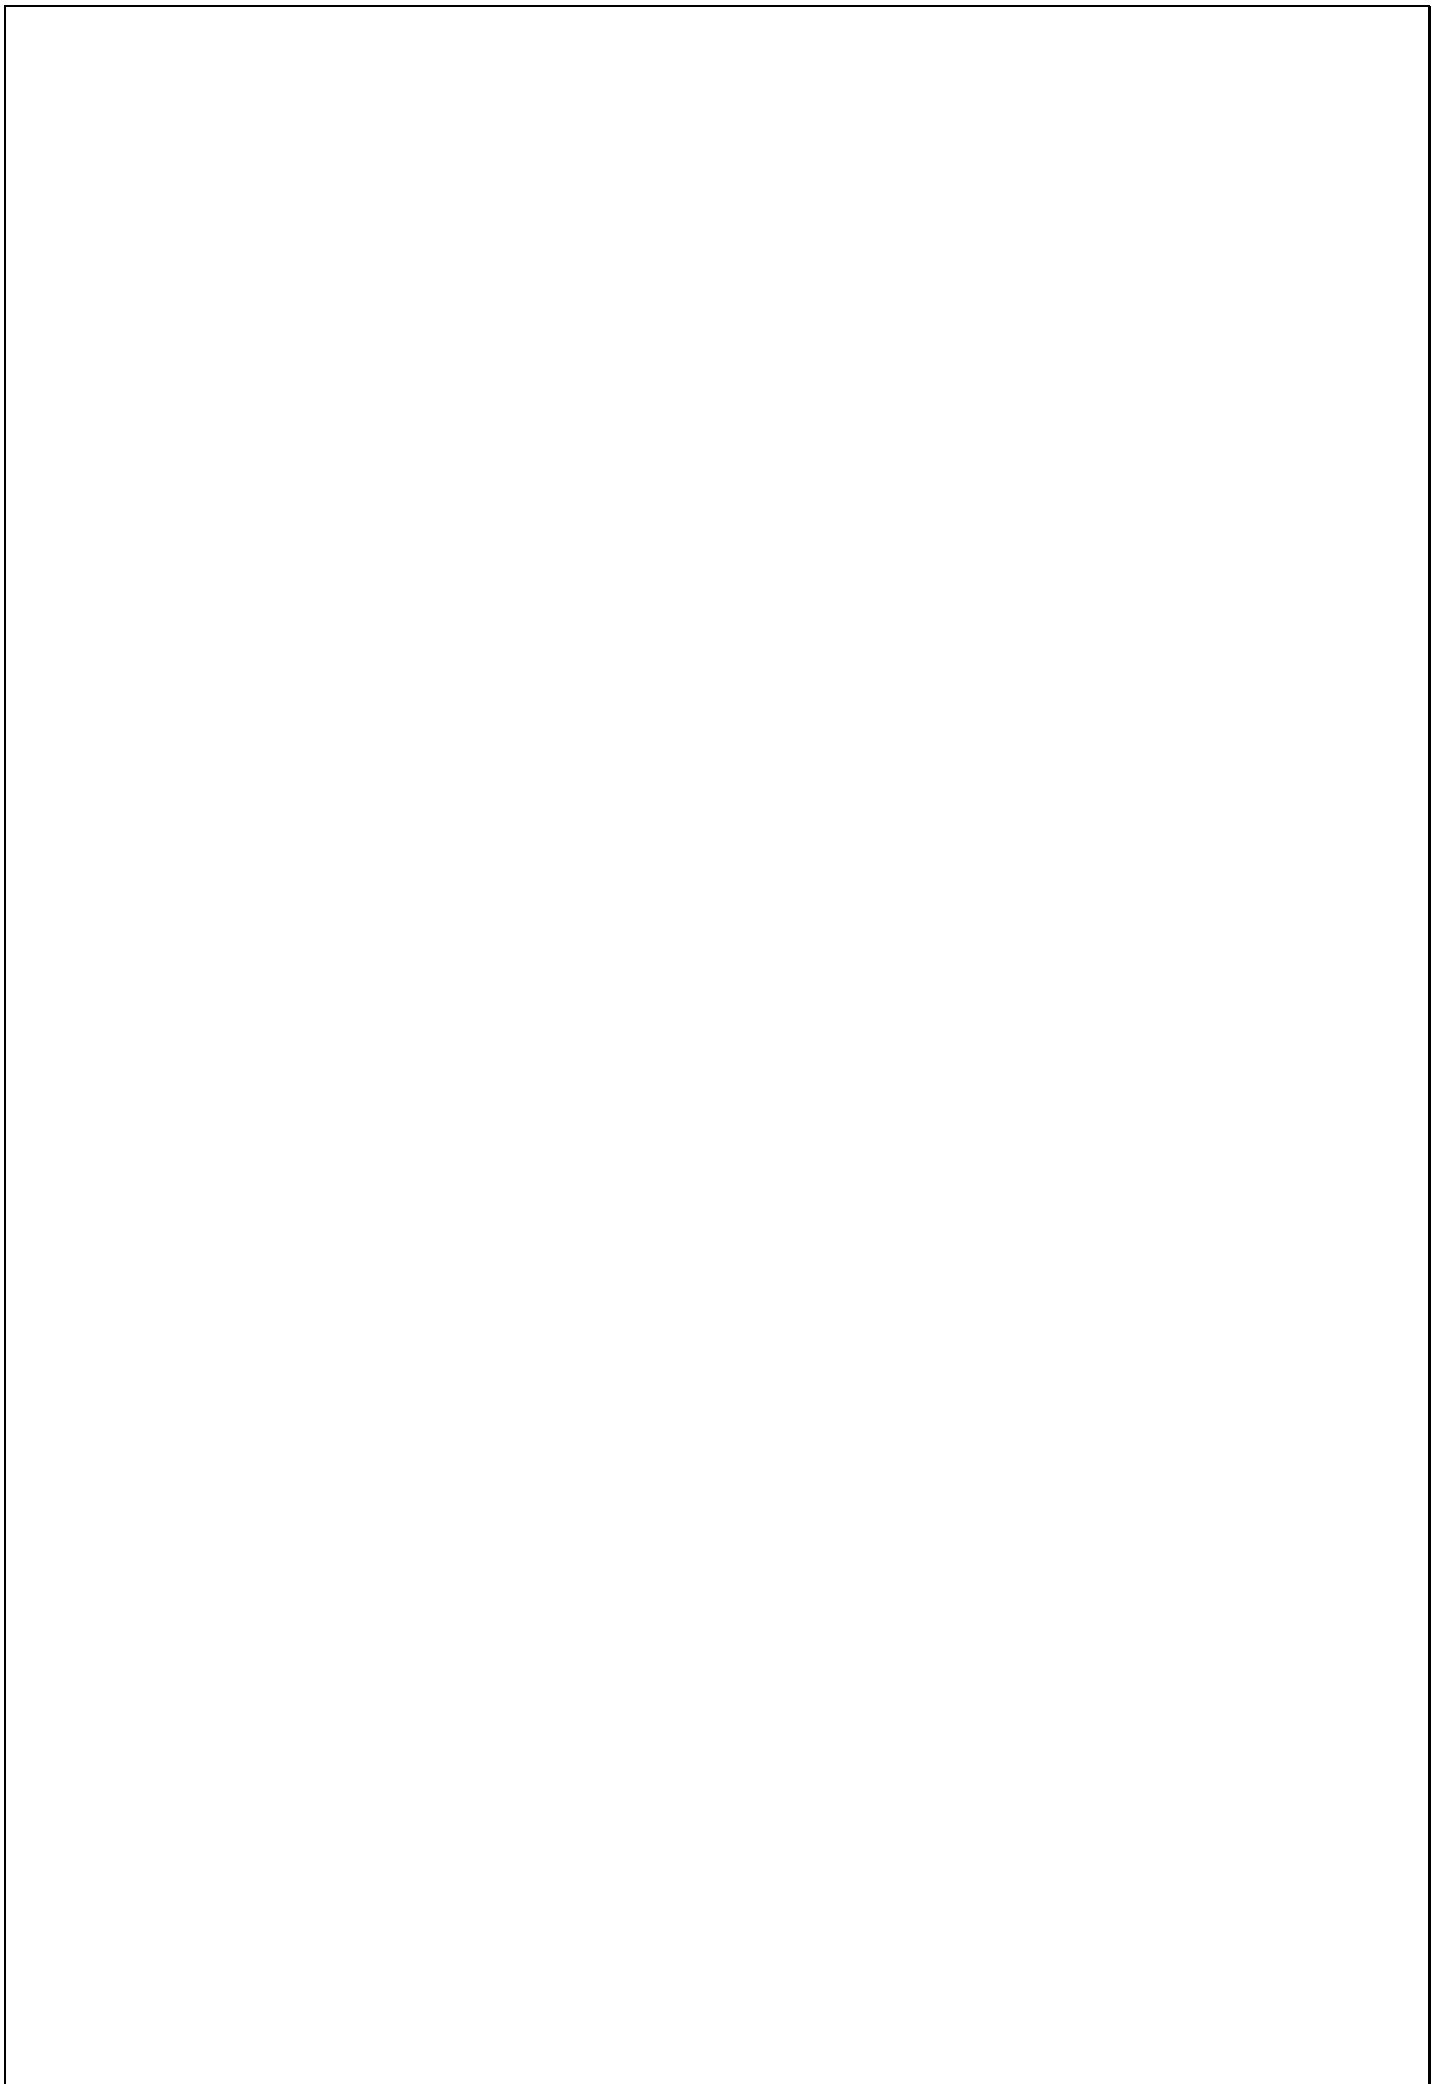

We want the UK government to focus on three areas.

- 1. Quit dirty coal End our reliance on dirty coal power, and instead boost the UK's renewable energy supply to help build a green economy and create new jobs.
- 2. Protect the poorest Provide resources to help the world's poorest and most vulnerable people adapt to climate change and allow them to develop in a carbon friendly manner.
- 3. Act fair and fast Deliver a fair global deal in Copenhagen that keeps global warming under 2°C.
